

GEORGETOWN LAW

Res Ipsa Loquitur Spring/Summer 2014

1963

Robert L. Parks, who presently serves as chairman of the board of visitors for the National Judicial College, the organization involved in training state court trial judges, took part in a symposium dealing with the preservation of the civil jury system as part of the College's 50th anniversary. The symposium was sponsored by the International Academy of Trial Lawyers and was held last June in Chicago.